MCCCD Student Email - Email Account

You can now sign up for a student email account with the @maricopa.edu domain name, using the Google email system, and your MEID. Here are the benefits:

- A lifetime email address, a reliable, secure email service, and a powerful anti-spam service.
- 7 GB of storage space
- Useful collaboration tools such as Google Docs, an online suite of office productivity applications featuring word processing, spreadsheets and presentations.
- Access to calendaring, tasks and scheduling features
- Instant messaging with voice and video
- The .edu address entitles you to educational discounts to software, etc.

On July 13, 2009 the system will become the official way to receive communications from the students’ colleges and the Maricopa Community College District.

If you are an existing student - you will use your existing college identification number (MEID) and password. That means a student who has “XXXX” as an MEID, for example, would have an address of “XXXX@Maricopa.edu.”

If you are a new student - you must complete a Student Information Form (SIF) and complete the admissions process for a Maricopa Community College, at which time you’ll automatically be given a corresponding address in the new email system.

My Maricopa and Canvas
The @maricopa.edu email account will be automatically loaded into My Maricopa and Canvas. ALL email sent via Canvas will be sent via the student’s Maricopa email. You are responsible for communications sent to this address.

You can forward Maricopa email, if you wish, to another personal email account but are responsible for ensuring that your instructor will accept email responses from another account.
